To Whom It May Concern,

The Canastota Volunteer Fire Department is currently working on building a haunted house for a fundraiser to open September 27th. We ran the haunted house for six years before going on a brief hiatus.

Since the last time we ran the haunted house, New York state has created new stipulations for haunted attractions that we are following. One of them that we wish to follow to the best extent that we can is by making sure everything is flame retardant.

I am a member of a Haunted House forum through Hauntworld and you were one of the main companies receiving positive feedback on your products along with working with haunted attractions. Given that International Fire-Shield is a New York-based company we feel strongly about dealing with an in state company.

I couldn't locate any pricing on your products while visiting your site. The product in particular that we are interested in is the Inspecta-Shield Plus, as this appears to be what other haunters use the most of as it covers a variety of surfaces.

We are working with a limited budget for this first year back, but are very interested in the pricing of your product, and even potentially working with us as a sponsor. We will be thanking our sponsors on our Facebook, Twitter and website (will be up and running beginning of September), along with on our flyers, banners and signs that we post. Plus mention in any media coverage that we generate through a Press Release.

I am one of the volunteers working on designing and building the haunted attraction for the fire department and have worked with them with all of their attractions. John Palamara, listed above as Fire Department Secretary is President of the Haunted House committee and can be contacted with any other questions.

We have already begun the building process, but would like to have some fireproofing product in house as soon as we could to make sure we have all the main items that currently aren't fire retardant covered.

Sincerely,
Ken Polisse Jr.
